

Eileen Segalman's passion for all things architecture and design are deeply-rooted, having been captivated by the construction of her childhood home at a young age. A graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design, Eileen infuses everything she touches with her easy elegance, discerning taste, and sensational sense of style. Throughout her twenty-five year career, her natural ability to diligently interpret each client's vision, reflecting their story throughout an interior, has earned her loyal clients throughout the decades. The skill with which Eileen collaborates with artisans and suppliers, interfaces with town departments, and meets vital deadlines has largely contributed to her success. Eileen remains true to one simple principle in her design approach, "live what you love." One of Eileen's loves is travel, and she often gains inspiration for design projects while abroad. "One of my favorite hotels is The Berkeley in Paris," said Eileen. "Each floor features a different fantasy-rich design. It's an amazing example of design's ability to dazzle multiple senses," Elaine continued. "I enjoyed exploring every floor of the hotel and strive to apply that same sensory-rich element to my clients' projects."
